CONFEDERATES ALL GENTLEMEN

How Kirby Smith Tried to Enforce Discipline and Failed to Carry His Point-Foraging for a Good Breakfast,

MECKLENBURG, VA., Jan. 20.-Spe cial.-"Come right in," said the old gen-Heman when I knocked at the old battered door of his ante-bellum kitchen, which he now calls his "pandemonium," because he keeps suddlers', carpenters' and blacksmiths' tools there, besides a promiscuous collection of books and pamphlets on subjects varying from such treaties on psychological research as he has been able to pick up, to treaties on incubation and the brooding of fowls, for he prides himself on being the only man in all Virginia who has pure and uncontaminated the original breed of White Hackle game fowl of forty years agone; niso his books on horses and dogs, for the winter snows which have frosted his "pow" and melowid his heart to love all the world, seems to have also made him the world, seems to have also made him more proud of the animal world than in youth, for, "In that town a dog was found,

As many dogs there be, Both mongrey, puppy, whelp and hound, And curs of low degree."

"Well, sir," said I, "how are you feeling this snowy Xmas?" "Like the late Henry Dixon did when he 'got religion," said the old gentleman. "I was just ruminating on the days when I gave my life for my country, when the toesin of war seunded nigh forty years back, and having loved comfort, enjoyed the privileges of a soldier. "This was the first thing we saw of official omnipotence. When we got out from amongst those histrionic wheat snocks and again straightened out into the road, we had a decary and disagreeable tramp to a little place called Pledmont. FIRST TIME HUNGRY.

"I do not like exaggeration, and I reck-bu I speak entirely within bounds when I say that there were hundreds of men there that day who, for the first time in all their lives, really knew, from its gnawing pangs, what hunger was. A negro drove up soon after we got there with a fine pair of steers hitched to a cart. These were killed by the order of cart. These were killed by the order of Col. Edmonds, of the Thirty-eighth Vir-ginia, to whose mother they belonged, and before the flesh stopped quivering many men had chunks cut out and cu ram rods and sharpened sticks, was

DEATH OF A PATRIARCH.

Henry Smith Leaves Behind Him 262

Descendants, LEXINGTON, VA., Jan. 18.—Special.— Mr. Henry Smith, aged 89 years, died at his mountain home. "Snow Mountain." and was buried yesterday at the burying ground on the farm of Captain Mark Hatton. The funeral services were con-ducted by Rev. D. A. Penick, of the Pres-byterian church, of which denomination he was an exemplary memoer for many years.

Mr. Smith, long years ago, purchased from "The Mountain Survey Company" a tract of land in the mountains on Kerr's creek, for which he paid $1 per acre. Here he established his home and lived in peace and quietude till the death of his wife some years ago, when he moved a little lower down on the mountain side to the home of his son Andrew, where hosent the remainder of a remarkable life.

Mr. Smith raisd a large family and supported them in a great measure by hunting. He was considered the best marksman in all that region, and his table was always well supplied with game, such as deer, bear and pheasants. He also spent much of his time in grazing cattle.

The Mules such as deer, bear and pheasants. He also spent much of his time in grazing cattle and sheep on his mountain pasture land. He never used glasses and until last fall alway enjoyed splendid health. His kindness of heart will long linger in the memory of his friends, and his name will be perpetuated in his offspring, who are quite numerous. He is the father of thirteen children, has ninety living grand-children. Its great-grandchildren, and children, 153 great-grandchildren, and flour great-great-grandchildren. By actual count his direct descendants number 262.
